

PHYSICIAN AND ALLIED HEALTH PROVIDERS DIRECTORY

DEAR READER,

This directory lists most of the osteopathic physicians in the Pikes Peak Region and some M.D.s who are members of the Colorado Springs Osteopathic Foundation as well as some allied health professionals who are members of the Foundation. The Colorado Springs Osteopathic Foundation does not endorse any of the physicians listed in the directory; it is simply a resource.

There are two types of medical colleges in the United States: Osteopathic Medical Colleges where D.O.s graduate, and Allopathic Medical Colleges where M.D.s graduate. Today D.O.s and M.D.s participate in the same residency and fellowship programs. There are more than 100,000 Osteopathic physicians (D.O.s) in the United States.

Osteopathic physicians are trained to promote the body's natural tendency toward health and self-healing. They embraced the holistic (body, mind, spirit) philosophy long before it was in vogue. Osteopathic Medicine emphasizes helping each person achieve a high level of wellness by focusing on health promotion and disease prevention. After graduating from Osteopathic Medical School, Osteopathic physicians complete a residency in their chosen specialty and are licensed to practice the full scope of medicine in all 50 states.

To learn more about Osteopathic Medicine, visit the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine website: aacom.org, the American Osteopathic Association website: osteopathic.org or doctorsthatdo.org.
